

GEOGRAPHY

Year 6 to 7 transition activity – Landscape in a Box

Geography is the study of the world we live in and one important aspect of this is the land we live on. This task is designed to give you a chance to research a landscape of this amazing world and recreate a miniature version.

Task 1 - Think about a landscape in the world that you would like to make, maybe a place you've been to or a place you would love to go one day. Conduct a Google image search and do some research on how this landscape looks – what animals and plants are there? How have humans interacted with the place?

Task 2 – Using only sustainable resources (recycled or reused materials) try to recreate the landscape in a box (size doesn't matter!)

Task 3 – Finish your landscape with some research, where is it? What is the weather like? Are there any famous features?

What a Great One Looks Like – WAGOLL

Remember it can be anywhere in the world!

These are some examples are previous students work to help

